CLASS PLAY IS GIVEN BY SENIORS

"Fortune Hunter" Is Well Staged By Graduating Class

On Friday night, January 20, the senior class presented the four-act play, "The Fortune Hunter," in the high school auditorium. From the opening scene to the final curtain, the play was a success. Miss Briggs and the entire cast must be given much credit for so successfully presenting it.

"The Fortune Hunter" concerns Nathaniel Huncher, who is anxious to obtain wealth by some "get-rich-quick" method and is advised by his friend, Henry Kellogg, to go to some small town, win the friendship of some wealthy young lady and so gain his fortune by marriage. How Huncher goes to the small town of Lodi, becomes engaged to Josephine Lackwood, daughter of the banker, finds out at the last minute that she is really in love with Betty Graham, daughter of his employer, furnishes the complication for the plot.

Tom Maloney as the happy-go-lucky fortune hunter played his part very convincingly. Samuel Bowley as Henry Kellogg carried his part splendidly. Ruth Binsell interpreted the part of Betty Graham nicely and Esther Gerding as Josephine and Madeline Lee as Angie, also carried their roles in a manner that showed careful preparation.

Most of the comedy was furnished by Louis Gantsch and Oswald Sagen as the town constable and Tracy Tanner. Both deserve praise for their work. George Stroubecker proved his ability in the character of Sam Graham, and Earl Krause as Roland, and Lester Cameron as the village banker also did very well. Donald Nichol as Mr. Burdham and Lynn Marshall as Mr. Sperry played their parts with the exactness that marked the whole production.

CLASS NIGHT OBSERVED

The advanced senior class of 1922 presented a novel vanderbilt program last evening in the auditorium. Every member of the class took part, and the entertainment was very humorous, evoking much laughter and applause from the audience.

Fred Hunkerson, orator of the school, gave an interesting dialogue in the Swedish tongue. The other boys put on various acts including a strong man act, "The Tragedy of Ophelia" and "Outcasts," and a fancy dancing number. Louis Gantsch displayed unusual and hitherto unknown talent in the aviatist line.

The girls appeared as young colored girls, old maids and pickaninnies, and staged a clever minstrel show. There were many jokes applicable to both students and teachers, and original parodies on well known songs.

Most of the costumes were from Jacobs and the music was furnished by the Six Sour Synchoppers.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS

A junior-senior dinner dance will be given at the high school Wednesday evening, January 23. The party is given by the advanced juniors to the graduating class, and replaces the customary junior prom.

At 6:30 o'clock a dinner will be served in the lunch room. During the dinner, music will be furnished by a small orchestra, under the supervision of Miss Traue.

The entertainment committee has arranged a very amusing program which will be given in the auditorium, after the dinner. The junior class will present a stunt, showing the future occupations of some of the graduates. The faculty has also arranged a stunt, which is to be a surprise for everyone.

After the program an informal dance will be held in the Huxon gymnasium. The music will be furnished by Long's Jazz Boys.

Bernice Johnson and Dorothy Elenz were the winners of the last 10 minute speed contest held. Their averages were 42.6 and 41.1 words per minute respectively.

CHICAGO.—Fred Upham, republican national committee chairman, made public figures showing the committee still owes $708,151.22 for the 1920 campaign.

MOTHER!

Your Child's Bowels Need "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruit" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teething child today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, or a child is a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you get an imitation fig syrup.

COMMENCEMENT

On the evening of January twenty-six a class of fifty-five students, who have reached the end of their four-year journey, will be graduated from the La Crosse High school.

Fifty-five young people eager, brimming with ambition, full of spirit and life, are now ready to go forth into the world and see what it has in store for them.

Onlookers wonder if these people realize just how much of their future success they hold in their own hands. With all their hopes and dreams fulfilled? We wonder? We hope so!

If they continue to devote their time to their chosen work, and determine to surmount every obstacle which presents itself, we believe that they will ultimately reach their goal.

FINAL EXAMS

Final examination time is with us again! To some this will not mean anything unusual, but to others it will be a period of worry and trial.

Students who have done their work carefully from day to day during the semester will have no occasion to feel alarmed, but those who have been having "so much fun in class," are the ones who will be burning midnight oil the next few days in a final mighty effort to acquire the necessary knowledge to pass.

Cramping for examinations at the last minute is always inadvisable. It is just as reasonable to go without meals for a number of days, expecting to make up for the loss of nourishment at one meal.

SCHOOL GOSSIP

About a week ago the students were required to fill out program cards with the studies which they desired to take the next semester. Now instead of the usual registration rush on the first day of school Mr. Hays had the office force make out the program cards for the students. On January 30, the students will be presented with their program cards already filled out, and pass immediately to their second semester classes.

This saves time and a great deal of work for the teachers and students.

Miss Agnes Hayes' English IV class enjoyed a delightful sleigh ride party last Saturday evening. After riding around town for a while, the party went to Britling's house where light refreshments were served. Dancing, singing and games also featured the evening's entertainment. Miss Weigand and Miss Hayes chaperoned the party.

The final speaking contest of the English V classes was held in assembly last Wednesday. The three girls and the three boys who were selected from the preliminary contest, spoke. The girls who spoke in the first assembly were: Valeria Wiskerchen, spoke on Booker T. Washington, first place; Olga Mathum, on Mark Twain, second place; and Mary Reed, on Admiral Evans, third place.

The judges were: Miss Desmond, Miss Raymond, and Mr. Pierce.

In the second assembly those who spoke were: Milton Stone, spoke on Roosevelt, first place; Erwin Hunfl, on Stephenson, second place; and Kenneth Larkin, on Wilson, third place.

The judges were: Miss Mashek, Miss Forseller, and Mr. Falconer.

The students' manner of delivery was excellent, and the talks showed a great deal of preparation.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES

"I have seen you who are graduating, going to school and coming home, and you are always happy," so said Rev. Gamm, who gave the Baccalaureate sermon to the Senior class last Sunday afternoon.

"It is Jesus, Christ, who brings this happiness to your hearts and hope that all through your lives after you have left this school you will have the spirit of happiness."

Rev. Gamm spoke about the four kinds of kingdoms, the mineral, the vegetable, the animal and the kingdom of God. He showed in what ways the vegetable kingdom was superior to the mineral kingdom, the animal to the vegetable and the Kingdom of God above the others. The animal kingdom can work down but it can never come up into the Kingdom of God without spiritual aid.

This address was inspiring to the graduating class and the rest of the audience.

Previous to the address a song was given by the Senior girls.

A pleasing feature of the occasion was the professional played by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Traue to which the students and faculty entered the auditorium.

COOKING CLASSES ENTERTAIN

The cooking II classes have an established custom of having luncheons for their mothers. During the last three weeks, five luncheons have been served by these classes.

The girls are divided into groups of from six to nine girls, and a certain amount of money, generally about a dollar and a half, is given to each group to purchase the materials to be used in the luncheon.

Plans for the luncheon are started two weeks before the day on which the luncheon is to be served. An order list, complete with the cost and amount of the material must be handed in to the teacher. The menu must contain all the necessary vitamins and foodstuffs.

The night before the luncheon the girls must purchase all the materials to be used in the luncheon. The luncheons served by each group is the final exam for the cooking classes.

Another custom was started this year by these classes. A reception for the High School faculty was held. All the preparations were made by the girls. Room 5 was used as the receiving room, and certain girls were appointed hostesses. The refreshments were served in the dining room from four o'clock to five o'clock.

The reception was voted a success by everyone and there are hopes that a reception will be held every semester.

RED AND BLACK

DEFEATS SPARTA

La Crosse defeated Sparta with the decisive score of 52-24, Saturday, January 21st in Assembly Hall at Sparta. The game was clean and fast, although the superiority of the Red and Black was in evidence at all times.

The short passing game was worked to perfection by La Crosse.

The team work was improved over that of the Friday night game at Wisconsin mainly because Gantsch and Hargled in point scoring while Holley and Lewis came close second. The defense of La Crosse was almost perfect and with a few more practices the team will be good for the Madison tilt January 28. This was the first basketball game played with Sparta for several years owing to the fact that basketball has been left out of Sparta High School activities because they have had no good place to play on.

- January 25. Senior Dinner Dance.

HIGH SCHOOL BURNS PRESTON CLASSES ARE HELD IN CHURCHES

Building Destroyed When Frozen Hydrant Delays Firemen; Loss Placed at $100,000

PRESTON, Minn.—High school students here are today attending classes in three churches as the result of a fire which almost completely destroyed the school Monday. Only the walls of the school are left today, and there is a possibility that even these will be condemned making the construction of a new high school necessary.

The school board has already taken on the matter under consideration, and, if a new building is erected, it is planned to make a thoroughly modern school, with an auditorium and gymnasium.

Not Alarmed At First

The fire broke out shortly after the opening of school. The flames were discovered on the roof, and the 300 students in the school marched out in safety. The fire caused no great alarm at first, and it was expected it could easily be extinguished.

The firemen were considerably delayed however, by a frozen hydrant. The flames quickly spread, the roof gave way and soon the entire interior was ablaze. Although there was sufficient time for the removal of everything of value after the blaze was first seen, according to reports, the rescue work did not begin until the flames had gained considerable headway. As a result, almost all of the books were destroyed, and only important records were saved.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but it is believed that it may have been a defective chimney. If the walls of the building are condemned, it is estimated that the loss will reach $100,000. The building was comparatively new, having been erected within the last ten years.

The high school students are expected to be required to continue their classes in the church buildings for the remainder of the present school year. If a new high school is decided upon, it is expected that work upon it will begin early in the spring.

WASHBURN SCHOOL CLEARS HANDSOME SUM AT COFFEE

At a meeting of the Washburn School Parent's Teacher's Association on Nov. 15 the parents decided to hold another school coffee, during the year, the one conducted last year having proved to be such a great success. Miss Heydon was at once appointed general chairman by Mr. Dimler, president of the association.

The Coffee as a result of this meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce last Saturday from 11:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Both from a social and financial point of view the undertaking was a huge success, surpassing all previous records.

Principal W. C. Greenwalt and Pres. Dimler, of the association give the parents much credit for making the coffee so successful and wish to thank them very kindly for their generous donations and kind assistance. A fine Washburn school spirit prevailed throughout the whole day.

The courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce in making conditions so pleasant for the association is hereby acknowledged.

Judging from returned tickets about 2000 people must have been served. Over $200 were added to the treasury which will be spent for something useful for the new building as soon as the association deems wise.

SAUER DISCHARGED; ARMY DESERTION IS NOT ON U. S. RECORD

Soldier Who Came Home to Get Medical Treatment Discharged from Service

Edward Sauer is back home among his friends and relatives in North La Crosse with an army discharge in his pocket and his name and record cleared of any desertion charge.

Sauer was a sergeant in Battery B, 17th Field artillery, Regular army. He was stationed at Camp Bagg, South Carolina, and became ill last spring. He complained that he could not get proper medical attention at the camp. In desperation he left camp, came to La Crosse last May, and entered Grandview hospital. He was suffering from kidney trouble. After he was here seven months and ten days he gave himself up to the military authorities and voluntarily accompanied the sheriff to Fort Snelling.

As soon as he reached the fort he entered the post hospital and was not discharged from the hospital until a few days before he obtained his discharge from the service, on December 12. On Sauer's discharge papers it states that he was discharged for "physical disability and desertion not admitted." Sauer first enlisted March 12, 1917, and re-enlisted October 25, 1919, serving nearly five years.

Why Colds Lead to Pneumonia

When a cold is neglected it attacks the lining of the lungs—then it's pneumonia. Father John's Medicine treats colds and prevents pneumonia because it nourishes the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—any other way of treating a cold is likely to lead to pneumonia. ## TARIFF ADJUSTMENT BOARD IS URGED BY U. S. COMMERCE BODY

Chamber also Demands Reasonable Protection for American Industries

REFERENDUM OF MEMBERS
TAKEN ON TARIFF QUESTIONS

Declare for More Flexible Adjustment of Rates

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Legislative provision for flexible tariff rates to be administered by a tariff adjustment board is included among other tariff recommendations to which the chamber of commerce of the United States has been committed by a referendum vote of its membership announced Wednesday. Other propositions adopted in the referendum were reasonable protection for American industries against destructive competition, maintaining of the "anti-dumping" principle, "encouraging of export trade and adequate tariff measures to meet foreign discrimination."

The vote on the question of the American valuation basis for levying duties was announced as 979 for and 833 against, lacking the necessary two-thirds majority to commit the chamber either way. The vote on the question of postponing tariff legislation pending stabilization of world trade conditions also was indeterminate, being 734 for postponement and 1,110 against.

Discussing the proposal for a flexible tariff system to be administered within limits prescribed by congress by a special adjustment board, the tariff committee of the chamber, in its recommendations transmitted with the proposition voted on, declared such a board should be vested with quasi-judicial functions distinct from the investigating and fact-gathering functions of the present tariff commission.

The purpose of the proposed board, it was said, should be to provide a consistent tariff policy in the face of fluctuating trade conditions and its tariff rate decisions, although limited in range by congress, should "become as effective and binding" as duties now fixed by legislation.

Numerous Clashes Between Police and Strikers Mark Strike

CHICAGO, Ill.—Effectiveness of the strike of packing-house workers, continuance of the calling off of which will be voted Thursday by locals throughout the country under orders of headquarters here of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America, has been denied by the packers since its inception December 5.

In many plants admissions were made that for a few days work was diminished but that recently all plants have been operating with output unimpaired. Until recently the union maintained all plants were handicapped and the strike would continue.

The strike resulted in numerous clashes between strike sympathizers and police in Chicago and in the

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

No clinkers; all coal.

lynching of negro strike-breakers at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. The strike was called after a majority of the members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America voted in favor of it after wage reductions in various packing centers had been agreed on by plant councils, the packing-houses not recognizing the unions but agreeing to negotiate with committees from organizations of their own employees.

W. G. A. TO ASSIST IN DEVELOPMENT OF PUBLIC LINKS

Morement to be Started in Chicago to Foster Public
Golf Links

CHICAGO, Ill.—Public links golf, which has produced a squad of excellent players in the last few years and spread all over the country is to be fostered intensively by the Western Golf Association, with Chicago as the hub of the movement, according to an announcement by President Albert S. Gates Tuesday. It is planned to form a public links committee to aid in the building, financing and operation of golf links, so that the game may be made available to everyone who cares to play.

While the traditional seat of golf is at the famous public links of the Royal and Ancient golf club in St. Andrews, Scotland, the largest number of public links in America, where the game has been confined largely to private clubs, is in Chicago, which boasts nine courses, all of which are so congested that the forest preserve commissioners, headed by Robert W. McKinley, is planning several more.

Lincoln Park Popular

During last season more than 107,000 persons played over the nine hole course in Lincoln park alone. Hardly a city of 3,000 or more in the middle west does not have at least a nine hole course today according to reports gathered by the W. G. A. Some of the smaller cities operate their links as private clubs, many of them are semi-public, while others are public and free.

No Longer Rich Man's Game

It is to help in the building of more links of this sort that the Western association, with its membership of 200 clubs will lend organized aid. President Gates asserted that golf was no longer a rich man's game, and referred to such players as Francis Ogden, Jesse Guilford and Chick Evans, all champions, as an indication that most of our really famous golfers come from the ranks of the poor, and many from public links.

Harry Prazee still has a $250,000 infield, but he will have to cut it up into building lots in order to cash in on it.

"Speed King", Right Title For Walter Johnson Is Dope Handed Out By Billy Evans

BY BILLY EVANS

Of all the pitchers who have starred in the major leagues which one had the most speed?

This question is always a subject for much discussion. It is, of course, merely a matter of opinion, since there is no way to make an accurate comparison between the stars of the past and present.

I can speak for the pitchers of the last thirty years. During that time I have seen all of the modern stars in action. I have admired for most of them. I feel safe in saying that Walter Johnson, when in his prime, had just a little more speed than any of them.

When a pitcher can go through the American League for three years without being hit by a fast ball he certainly must have had something on it. That was the experience of Walter Johnson. Entering the American League in 1917, when it was a very strong organization, Johnson breezed through for three years in sensational style with a fast ball as his only asset.

Later, of course, he acquired a curve, a fair slow ball and a change of pace, but never was he more successful than when he relied on his fast ball.

Believe me, it was some fast ball. He is the only pitcher I ever worked behind who every now and then would have me blinking because of his terrific speed.

In those days batters didn't dispute the umpire very much when he called a strike on them with Johnson pitching. A great many of the good hitters actually didn't relish coming up with Johnson pitching.

Johnson Versus Rusie

Often I have called a batter out on a third strike and had him turn around and ask me if it was over and whether it was a fast one or a curve. It wouldn't be in the form of a protest either as the player would often finish by saying:

"I don't know what it was or where it was. I really didn't see it."

Having settled the fact that Johnson was the fastest pitcher of the last 20 years the argument comes up, "Was he faster than Rusie?" generally regarded as the peer of the old-timers, speed alone considered.

Never having seen Rusie in action, I do not feel competent to draw any conclusions or make any comparison between Rusie and Johnson. Hughie Jennings, former Detroit manager, now assistant to John McGraw at New York, was a star player when Rusie was in his prime. He battled against him many times. Once he was hit on the head by a thrown ball from Rusie, and almost died as a result of the accident.

Jennings was manager of the Detroit club when Walter Johnson entered the American League. It is rather interesting that Johnson faced the Detroit club in the first major league game he ever worked.

What Hughie Jennings Says

It struck me that no person in baseball was in a better position to pass judgment on Johnson and Rusie than Jennings. During the recent world series I discussed the subject with him. This was his viewpoint:

"Rusie and Johnson are unquestionably the two best fast ball pitchers in the history of the game."

"It is hard for me to say which pitcher had the most speed. Both were very fast when in their prime. They were almost unhittable."

"The two pitchers used an entirely different style of delivery. Rusie was over-hand all the time, while Johnson is off the side."

"It is always much more difficult to follow the fast ball of a side-arm pitcher than an over-hand twirler. For that reason Johnson always seemed a trifle faster to me than Rusie. 'I am not saying that he actually was faster. I am simply stating that the style of delivery employed by the two made Johnson seem faster, because of the great difficulty in following a side-arm ball.'"

"I suppose a draw decision would set better, particularly with the old-timers, who have always regarded Rusie as the peer of all fast ball pitchers."

ROY McWHIRTER WINS IN NATIONAL ICE SKATE RACES

Jewtraw and McWhirter Divide
Honors in Two Senior
Events of Meet.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y.—Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid and Roy McWhirter of Chicago divided honors in the two senior events at the national amateur outdoor skating championship meet which opened here Tuesday.

Jewtraw won the 220-yard dash, while the Chicago speedster finished first in the three-quarter mile event. At the end of the day each had 40 points to his credit.

Stars in Bad Collision

Joe Moore of New York and Russell Wheeler of Montreal lost an opportunity for getting into the finals when they collided and threw each other in the semi-final of the furlong, while the two were leading.

In a preliminary and semi-final of the 220-yard event Jewtraw made the unusually fast time of 19 4-5, and won the final in 20. The ice was in perfect condition, but the cold was intense.

IMPRISON RUSSIAN WHO CLAIMS TO BE SECOND MESSIAH

REVAL, Ekshonia—Russian soviet authorities, according to Petrograd newspapers, have ended abruptly the career of a monk who, claiming to be a second Messiah, attempted to follow in the footsteps of the notorious Russian monk, Rasputin.

Vladimir Tsvetayev, founder of a church of his own, he claimed wonderful healing powers and the credulous flocked to him. As the number of his followers, chiefly women, grew, Tsvetayev, according to officials, selected among them a number whom he called his "angels," who occupied his house with him.

He was sentenced to three years and four months in prison.

The high cost of living is seriously reducing the student population in the Latin Quarter.

NORMAL QUINT TO APPEAR AT HOME AFTER SERIES OF SUCCESSFUL ROAD CONTESTS

Campion College of Prairie du Chien Next on Schedule for Maroon and Gray; Team in Fine Shape

CARNIVAL visitors in La Crosse, as well as many of the local fans, will have a chance to see the crack La Crosse normal school basketball team in action on Saturday night of this week when they meet the Campion college team from Prairie du Chien. This game promises to be one of the biggest sporting events on the calendar for the week, and it presents indications count for anything, a record crowd will be at the normal gym to see the contest.

The Keelerites have not appeared in La Crosse since the opening of the normal conference. Their last home game was with the University of Wisconsin quinner, before the holidays. Since that time they defeated the River Falls, Milwaukee and Whitewater normal schools on their own floors and by decisive scores in all three cases.

Team in Fine Shape

The team is going in fine shape. Coach Keeler has a winning combination line up. They have the passing game down almost to perfection and present a defense which is next to impossible to penetrate. This fact was shown in the last three games, when the locals allowed but very few field goals to their opponents. The team is exceptionally well balanced, all the men being fast and all having a good eye for the basket.

Though the Campion game does not count in the normal school conference, the down river college boasts a strong team, and they are out to win when they come to La Crosse. Robert Nohr, athletic director at the normal school is trying to change the date of the game to Friday night of this week so that it will not interfere with the closing events of the carnival downtown. The exact date will be announced in the next issue of the Tribune.

PROPOSE ONE CENT TAX ON GASOLINE TO BUILD ROADS

Plan is to Place Greater Part of Burden Upon Those Who Use the Roads Most

PLAN IS PUT FORWARD BY OIL INSPECTION DEPUTIES

Claim Tax Would Result in Revenue of Over Million

MADISON, Wis.—Gasoline will provide funds for building Wisconsin roads in addition to running its automobiles, should the 1923 legislature enact into law the proposal submitted Wednesday to T. J. Cunningham, supervisor of oil inspectors, by a committee of his deputies.

This proposal in the form of a bill for introduction into the legislature, calls for a one cent tax on each gallon of 125 million gallons of gasoline sold in the state annually. Revenue of $1,250,000 would result, which the bill provides, is to go into the general fund for use in highway construction and maintenance.

Governor Blaine first suggested the plan now definitely worked out by the oil inspectors when in an address at their convention here on December 17, he emphasized what he believed the necessity to place the greater part of the burden for road building on automobile owners.

Following his talk a committee composed of E. L. Tracy and W. P. Willis, Milwaukee; A. W. Oviatt, Madison, and Askel Holter, Ashland, was chosen to formulate a definite proposal.

The bill they have drawn calls for a one cent license tax on each gallon of gasoline, giving the purchaser "the privilege of using such motor oil in motor vehicles upon the highways of Wisconsin."

Any person or corporation shipping or receiving gasoline in the state would under provisions of the bill be required "before the tenth day of each month, to report to the state treasurer every shipment, receipt or production and send the correct remittance which the treasurer shall accredit to the highway fund."

Dealers are permitted to add the one cent tax to the price of the motor fuel, but if they fail to make the required reports to the state treasurer, are subject to fine and imprisonment.

Administration of the law would rest with the oil inspectors, and could be accomplished they believe without added cost to the state, because of the large surplus that results each year from inspection fees.

The state oil department with 38 men in the field in 1921 collected fees amounting to $163,020.00 from inspecting 741,954 barrels of kerosene and 2,515,459 barrels of gasoline. Administration expenses amounted to $63,328.23, leaving a surplus of $79,691.77 that was earned for the state.

The same committee of inspectors which drew up the gasoline tax bill, has also prepared a measure calling for change in the oil inspection law. The bill provides that a distillation test of gasoline shall be made in place of the present specific gravity test.

Besides their oil inspection work the deputies are charged with enforcement of all laws governing explosives, especially the statute which requires that gasoline be kept in red cans.

Chaperones Named to Assist Two Hundred Girls Who Will Take Part in Show

"Kathleen" is the thing! It is rapidly developing and committees and talent have practically been decided upon.

Monday afternoon a most enthusiastic meeting of two of the sponsoring committees was held at the Y. The work was outlined to those present and each detail was carefully gone over.

A partial list of the chaperones of the production, whose business it will be to assist the two hundred persons participating includes the following: Mrs. Horace Holter, Mrs. Edwin M. Wing, Miss Harriet Ray, Miss Gertrude Sisson, Miss Owen Marshall, Mrs. Leonard Dunk, and Mrs. Arthur Hunkesou.

A publicity committee has also been chosen that will take care of all the advertising features in connection with the production. This committee is composed of the following: Miss Cora Bangsberg, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Otto Merman, Mrs. Arthur Schwalbe, Mrs. Dean Crowell, Mrs. Russell Thompson, Mrs. Phil Stour, Mrs. Vilas Horner and Mrs. Edwin Schwalbe.

Advance tickets for the production will also shortly make their appearance, and will be distributed through a ticket committee, headed by Mrs. L. W. Eldam. Inquiries for tickets are already being made, which bodes well for the financial outcome of the enterprise.

DAIRYING PROGRESS SHOWN IN EXHIBITS AT MADISON SHOW

Seven Displays Depict Development of the Industry During Past Half Century

MADISON, Wis.—The development of dairying in Wisconsin from its crude frontier stage to its present place as the leading state industry, is to be depicted by exhibits at the Wisconsin dairy jubilee here January 30 to February 4.

"Fifty years of dairy progress is shown by the seven displays intended to represent successive steps in the growth of Wisconsin into the nation's leading dairy state. The federal government's survey of the dairy industry will also be displayed at the meeting.

The state exhibit shows first the small farm dairy, before the advent of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, which is then shown as the organization that fore-saw the possibilities of developing the industry in the state.

Efforts of the men who fostered the association, and of the eight Wisconsin scientists whose inventions made possible the development of present dairying machinery are explained through displays which lead up to the present dairy supremacy of Wisconsin.

The state is shown to produce ten tons of milk for every minute of the night and day throughout the year. A placard will point out that the milk produced in Wisconsin if ever set in motion, was of large enough volume to furnish power for every electric light and piece of machinery housed at the dairy show.

The last exhibition of dairy progress depicts the state as leading the nation with 2,000,000 dairy cows, 100,000 sows, 2,000 cheese factories, 1,000 creameries and 60 condensaries.

Home economics students at the university will demonstrate the use of milk as a beverage, while the library commission is to show the place of books in farm life.

Development of marketing organizations, eradication of bovine tuberculosis, utilization of dairy by-products and standardization will be stressed by the federal government displays.

Saccharine, that remarkable substance that is 200 times sweeter than sugar, is produced from coal tar.

LA FOLLETTE HITS SENATE ACTION IN SEATING NEWBERRY

Badger Senator in Magazine Editorial Likens it to the Lorimer Case

MADISON, Wis.—Under the caption, "The Shame of the Senate," Senator Robert M. La Follette in the leading editorial of his magazine Wednesday indorses that the nation has not heard the last of the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan. Comparing it with the Lorimer case, he declares that the Michigan senator seating "put a stigma of shame upon the senate."

"In seating the beneficiary of the expenditures referred to, it is my sincere belief that the 46 senators who voted for Newberry have dishonored themselves, put the stigma of shame upon the senate in which the campaign of political debauchery was staged, and placed the United States senate in a humiliating position before the country," said Senator La Follette.

"It is a fearful price to pay in order to confirm the sale of a single seat in the United States senate. In addition to the acknowledgment of an expenditure of $155,000, abundant evidence was produced to show that the total expenditures exceeded a quarter of a million. Other estimates ran as high as $800,000. The state law of Michigan permitted only an expenditure of $2,750 by a candidate for the senate. While the campaign was in progress, it is undisputed that both the lieutenant governor of Michigan and a leading newspaper editor of the state advised Newberry that a 'bribe' campaign was being waged in his behalf.

"Among the senators who voted to seat Lorimer were Cummins, Poin-dexter, Townsend and Lodge, who voted on January 12 to retain Newberry as a member of the United States senate. Only six of the 46 senators who voted to seat Lorimer a decade ago today occupy seats in the senate. The people drove from public life a majority of those who refused to accept the principle that money used to corrupt a legislature invalidated the election of the beneficiary of the corruption. Through their representatives and by constitutional amendment the people adopted a system providing for the direct vote of United States senators by direct vote of the citizens in order to put an end to the election of senators through bribery of members of state legislatures.

"Wealth has met this situation as it meets every attempt by the people to check its impudent misuse of power. Since the enactment of these laws, wealth has sought to thwart the public will and to subvert the government by controlling primary and general elections by the corrupt use of money. The facts in the Lorimer and Newberry cases differ in some particulars. The underlying issue is the same. The power of predatory wealth was employed in both cases to corrupt representative government. As night follows the day, corruption in elections ripens into corruption in legislation.

"Sensing this, the American people will never approve the action of the 46 senators who voted to confirm the corrupt election of Truman H. Newberry to the United States senate."
